LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Hon. M. A. Smith is at Old Point Comfort, Va.

Harry Peto's drugstore is one of the neatest places in the city.

The usual services to-morrow at the Catholic and Methodist churches.

John Aston, of the Reloj Cattle company, came in from Texas this week.

Mrs. B. J. McGrew will teach the Contention public school the coming term.

The family of J. D. Goodin left Wednesday for Los Angeles, Cal., to join Mr. Goodin.

Ben. Goodrich, Esq., is in town from Phoenix. He reports the place on the eve of a boom.

The Methodist Sunday school have a picnic next Wednesday afternoon at Herrick's ranch.

Wm. M. Edwards, the reporter scout, at one time connected with the EPITAPH, is gone to the City of Mexico.

Mrs. S. L. Hart and Mrs. Kirt Hart are expected home next week from Wisconsin, where they have been spending the summer.

The EPITAPH learned a chapter this week of the unwritten history of a certain would-be prominent citizen of Tombstone, which would make "mighty interesting reading."

Hicks & Walker are furnishing the trade with a superior article of soda and sarsaparilla. They are also importers of all kind of mineral water.

The heavy rains of the past week, which have been general throughout Cochise county, while they have been a boon to the ranchmen, have done considerable damage to roads and bridges. But the cowmen don't care.

Alex. M. Robertson, formerly in the bank and stationery business in this city, writes to Constable Ben James that twenty or thirty good miners can get steady work at Carlisle, N. M. Wages are $3.25 per day.

Buy your goods of responsible local merchants, and beware of outfits that you know nothing of, that are here to-day and gone to-morrow. The chances are that your local merchant will give you better bargains; at any rate he will be here to rectify any mistakes made.

Major F. S. Earle, Secretary of the Tempe Town company, was in this city this week. The Major is a veritable boomer, and rarely fails in language to portray the beauties of the place he represents, and what is more, he confines himself to the truth in making his representations.

Those who are incredulous about the adaptability of Cochise county to raise as fine grapes as California are requested to call at the residence of ye editor, on Second street, and see vines of the Muscat and Tokay varieties, loaded down with as fine grapes as the Golden State ever produced. The growth of the vines this season has been from fifteen to twenty feet, over an arbor. We keep a dog.

A Complete Office.

The job office belonging to the EPITAPH was this week removed from the Democrat building to this office, and now under one roof can be found the largest and best selection of printing material to be found in Arizona, all comparatively new and in good working order. The plant in part consists of one large Hoe power press, that cost $1500 in New York, one Peerless press (the best job press manufactured), one power paper cutter, besides all other material necessary for a first-class newspaper and job printing office. Our facilities for doing commercial work cannot be surpassed even in San Francisco. We mention these facts merely to impress upon the minds of those people who have been in the habit of sending away for their job work that they have an opportunity to be as well served right here at home. They can keep their money at home and thus aid a local institution that pays taxes to carry on the government. In the matter of cards, letter-heads, bill-heads, statements, blanks, posters, and in fact everything except the larger class of blank books, which require ruling and binding, we are determined to suit our customers or no charge will be made. Give us a trial, and if you are not suited continue to send your orders away from home, and also continue to blame your customers for doing the same thing.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Katie S. Hattich Burned to Death by Coal Oil.

One of the most painful accidents it has ever been the EPITAPH's sad duty to chronicle occurred Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock in this city. It is the old story of kindling a fire with coal oil, and a tale of the horrors of the death is but a repetition of several that have occurred in this very vicinity. The victim this time is entitled to a more generous sympathy than is ordinarily given in such cases, for she was a lovable little girl, only 13 years and 8 months old, Katie S. Hattich by name, eldest daughter of Mr. B. Hattich, who resides on Allen street, near Sixth. She little knew the danger that lurked in the deadly oil can as she innocently poured the fluid upon the smouldering fuel. The usual explosion occurred, throwing the blazing oil over her clothing. She ran for nearly a block down the street. The scene was one which struck the lookers-on with horror, the flames reaching the awnings above the fleeing child. As soon as possible the by standers secured blankets and smothered the fire, but not until nearly all the clothing was burned off the little girl and her flesh blistered from head to foot. The unfortunate child was taken in charge by loving friends, and everything possible was done to allay her suffering, but death came to her relief about 9 o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Hattich, the mother of the victim, was in San Francisco, but will be here to-morrow to attend the funeral, which takes place from the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Katie was a member of the Methodist Sunday school and was dearly beloved by teachers and scholars, in fact, by all who knew her. Her brother, Willie, is employed in the EPITAPH office. The family have the most heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

DRAGGED TO DEATH.

The Fatal Accident Which Befell Willie McFarland.

One of the most heart rending accidents it has been our duty to chronicle, befell the nine year old son of our townsman, Mr. S. R. McFarland. This gentleman was in Pantano yesterday, in the discharge of his duties, and was accompanied by Willie. While there the lad was placed upon a horse which made a few turns in the vicinity quite quietly, but at last quickened his pace while some distance from the lookers on, among whom was his father, and before they could assist him, was thrown, his foot remaining in the stirrup, in which position he was dragged to death in the sight of his agonized parent, who was powerless to render him any assistance until too late. All too late indeed, it was, although but a few short minutes, when the horror stricken group caught the horse and extracted the child. He was a painful sight to witness. The scalp torn completely from his head, and skull cracked; arms broken and thigh terribly mutilated. Tender hands removed him but life was extinct.

Willie was an uncommonly bright lad, one of those that we pick out and remember as little men among boys, a favorite among his school fellows and the community generally. His sad fate will long be remembered and deplored. The grief stricken parents have indeed the warmest sympathy of all, in this sad bereavement.

The remains were buried here to-day, and followed to the grave by the entire community. AMIGO
 Benson, August 25, 1887.

TEWKSBURY-GRAHAM.

Several More Murders in the Pleasant Valley Reported.

T. D. Tewksbury arrived in town to-day from the notorious Pleasant valley country, and with him comes the news of still further depredations and murders there. From what can be learned of the developments of the past few days, it would appear that at least two and probably more men have met death with their boots on. The last two to meet their end are John Graham and Ed. Tewksbury. Definite information of the immediate circumstances leading to the death of Graham are lacking, except that it was at the hands of Tewksbury. Tewksbury, however, was shot while resisting arrest by Sheriff Mulvenon. As to who the others were, who were killed, or how many, the reporter was unable to learn on good authority, although he is satisfied from the remarks of those who could tell, that at least five have come to the end of their rope. The total number now supposed to have been killed in connection with the feuds of that region are eleven, all in little more than a week. Sheriff Mulvenon, of Yavapai county, is now in that region with a posse of deputies, and he will be a public benefactor if he succeeds in exterminating the whole gang.

Marshal Wells left on the Prescott stage to-day for the scene of the massacre, and as he is well acquainted with all parties living in the Tonto Basin and Pleasant valley districts, having lived in that country in the cattle business, he will no doubt render valuable assistance. —Daily Arizona.

Not Correct.

Many persons are under the impression that the lot on which the City Hall stands is claimed by the Mountain Maid Mining Co., but such is not the fact. The lot in question was purchased with several others by Mrs. Maria Bauer from the Mountain Maid Mining Co., Dec. 10th, 1881, who afterwards sold the same to the city, and there has never been any question since that time about the ownership of the lot.

MINING MATTERS.

The recent rains have put chlorides to much trouble in many places by wetting the ore.

The Maggie mine, owned by Barney McArdle, is well located, and the 45-foot shaft shows good ore.

The Herald mine, owned by Dr. Handy and others, of Tucson, is one of the most promising prospects in this camp. With proper development there is a mine sure. The same may be said of the San Rafael.

The same activity continues at the Grand Central. The machinery went through the fire proves not to have been injured as badly as was thought.

In the Bunker Hill the drift on the 200 is being continued from the slope into Mammoth ground. On the fourth level the drift towards No. 1 shaft is within 40 feet of making connection, following a nice streak of ore. Last Wednesday 20 tons of ore were shipped to the Billings' smelter at Socorro.

Attention, Stockmen!

There will be a meeting of the General Stockgrowers' Association of Southern Arizona, at Benson, at 10 a. m., on Sept. 3rd. All delegates of the Calabasas, Tres Alamos, Tucson, Tombstone and Wilcox Associations and other stockmen are earnestly requested to be present. The time for the Fall rodeo will then be definitely fixed, and other matters of importance affecting the interest of the members of the Association will be attended to. C. M. HOOKER, President.

Territorial Taxation.

The Territorial Board of Equalization has reported to the Board of Supervisors of this county the following rates of taxation which is to be levied and collected within said county for Territorial purposes for the year 1887, viz: Rate per cent of the Territorial taxes 30 cents on each $100.

Interest Insane Asylum, 10 cts on each $100.

Interest on University bonds, 2½ cts on each $100.

Normal School Fund, 2½ cts on each $100.

Interest on funding bonds 15c on each $100.

Territorial School fund, 3c on each $100.

Also Live Stock Sanitary Fund, one mill on the dollar of the assessed valuation of the bovine cattle.

From Sozora.

Mr. Carlos Tully, who has been visiting Altar district, Sonora, returned from there on Monday last. He says there has been no rain south of the line to speak about and that stock is suffering. From Sasabe to Tucson the grass is looking well and that a good deal of rain has fallen. Speaking of mining in Sonora, Mr. Tully says that this industry is taking a front rank. Since the modification of the old Spanish mining laws, prospecting has been given an impetus and mining is looked upon with more favor than ever before. While not fully conversant with the changes made in the mining laws, Mr. Tully states that they are somewhat similar to our code. The office of perito de minas has been abolished and the expenses of obtaining possession of mining claims has been materially lessened.—Star.

Taxable Property in Arizona.

A Courier from Tucson took a trip through paper, etc., of the Territorial Board of Equalization, and got the following figures, representing assessed property in the ten counties of the Territory:

Apache county	3,661,095 28
Cochise county	3,322,605 19
Gila county	601,984 29
Graham county	2,008,383 73
Maricopa county	3,301,050 35
Mohave county	1,688,656 60
Pima county	4,070,784 39
Pinal county	1,842,465 23
Yavapai county	5,225,648 45
Yuma county	919,843 39

Total.....$26,313,592 21
 R. R. light assessment $5,000,000 increase.

When we consider that railroads are this year assessed very lightly, we can and do congratulate citizens of the Territory upon an increase in the assessment roll, this year, over last of nearly $6,000,000.—Prescott Courier.

Away Go the Cattle.

Many are finding it necessary to sell their cattle. Some are selling all they have. A fine herd of thoroughbreds within our knowledge, was sold last week at ruinously low prices. But it was better so, than to attempt to buy feed and carry them through the winter. In all this failure of the hay crop, there is now and then a section that has escaped, and we desire to call the attention of those who can keep more cattle than they have, that now is the time to buy. Cattle can be bought for nearly nothing, whenever a man finds that he cannot carry his herd through the winter. It is an ill wind that blows no one any good, and those who are unfortunate will be glad to know that anybody is in a position to enjoy prosperity.

But results will not be as bad to the average farmer and stock-raiser as at first they may seem. As recently mentioned by us, the lessening of the number of cattle must eventually raise the price of cattle and the products of the dairy. It is always well to see the lights as well as the shadows of every picture on which we look. Taking years together, we all enjoy a pretty fair prosperity. One crop may fail this year, or all crops may fail, but the next year or year after we will enjoy more than usual prosperity in some direction. The average of ten years of industry and good management is usually satisfactory, all things considered. Adversity is not without its benefits. It teaches us to be careful, and often compels us to become better acquainted with the science of our business, and with an increase of intelligence comes an increase of profit. Let us be all events, be as happy and hopeful as we can under all circumstances.—W. W. Raul.

Range Cattle Industry.

Hundreds of calves have this season been shipped from some of the Panhandle ranges, a proceeding hitherto unknown in these parts—and the innovation is by no means confined to steers. This is one of the signs of the times, that the great range industry of the past is changing its methods and rearranging and in some instances preparing to contract to suit changed conditions or entirely go out. Last year and the present season, all down the line to the Gulf thousands of heifers and cows have been shipped—something unknown to the Texas ranges until within recent date; and for the past eighteen months everything that was in condition to ship—and without always a drawing of that line—has been sent to the markets regardless of sex, future usefulness or previous condition. All these things count, and are of vivid interest both to the cattle raisers and the consumers of beef. They mean that within a period, certainly no further removed than three years, there is to be an awakening to the fact that the beef supply is short.

The above extract is from the Texas Panhandle, published at Mobeetie, Texas, in the heart of the range country and contains information, which confirms what has been stated in these columns from time to time for many months. While so much has been said and written in regard to the cause of the low prices paid for cattle and there have been so many doctors who knew what medicine should be administered to the patient, there has not been, nor will there be, any benefit accruing therefrom, as far as cattle prices are concerned. Medicine is prescribed for the man with an ailment to assist the natural functions in reassuming control, and on the same principal the market for any commodity can only improve when the excessive supply is reduced. In the present instance the cause of the depression is attributed to a supply reduced by the process mentioned in the extract from the Mobeetie, Texas, Panhandle, then there will be a return to former prices or figures approximating thereto. No doubt the same state of things exists elsewhere, not only in the range country but with domestic cattle, in fact it is demonstrated by the number of cows and calves which are being shipped to market.

The prediction is made, that there will be better prices for cattle next year and still better the year after, and unless all signs fail such will undoubtedly be the case. The forces are at work.

A telegram was received here yesterday announcing the death, in Oakland, Cal., of Col. C. P. Head. On the day previous, in answer to a telegraphic summons, his brother, W. S. Head, left Prescott to visit him, but failed to reach there in time to see him alive. The deceased was for years a resident of this territory, having been engaged in the mercantile business here with his brother. In 1884 he was Democratic nominee for delegate to congress, being defeated by Col. C. C. Bean. He was an upright man, and a good citizen. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss, who have the sympathies of this community in their bereavement.—Journal-Miner, 28th.

The three men reported killed in Tonto Basin, Tucker, Gillespie and Payne, had been in the employ of the Aztec Cattle company for some time. We understand Mr. Simpson, the local manager, had determined to do all in his power to break up the band of horse thieves who had been preying on the people in the western part of this county for so long a time, and to that end called all the men together in the employ of that company. When they were assembled he told them it was the intention of the company to take an active part in trying to stop so much stealing, and wanted the help of the employees of the company—that those who were not willing to assist them and the authorities in this work could call for their time. All agreed to do what they could, except five, who took their money and left. The three above named were of the party who took their time. It appears they put their liberty to bad use and enjoyed it but a short time.—St. John's Herald.
